STARGAZING

with Elizabeth Joyce
JULY / AUGUST 2007

The New Moon in LEO on July 14th brings a message of emotional expansion and growth. This energy also prompts you to be more discerning and careful in your relationships. You will find yourself in fertile ground when you work with careful guidance and support.

The Full Moon in AQUARIUS on July 29th brings either "love on the rocks" or you can be reminded to resolve the snags and unfinished business in your love relationship. Work with all of your love relationships and honor the gifts they have brought you.

The Personal Signs

ARIES (3/21 - 4/19)

Life is relatively calm compared to recent months, Aries. If you are free to play your way through summer, you will be glad that the work pace is slow. You are feeling ready to shed a few pounds, strengthen your muscles, and improve your overall health. Join forces with a partner and vow to have a new look by September. Make it fun! Join a gym or take a yoga class to relieve summer stress. You are guaranteed to have a full social life now, and if you're single, it may be time to meet that someone special. Get out there and socialize. Although finances are primarily positive, be careful of extra expenses at month's end.

TAURUS (4/20-5/20)

With summer in full swing, you are unprepared for a slowdown in your romantic life. It is likely that you'll have a hard time beginning any new romance this month, Taurus. Home life delights you this summer. Stay cool and comfortable and gear up for a major decluttering session or major garage sale as you let go of many unneeded items. Take the left over items to a consignment shop. The end result is more space and a clear mind. Take the initiative to meet new neighbors and get better acquainted. You never know who you may connect with. Expect job related frustrations at month's end when a project is put on hold and people around you are disagreeable. Although finances are okay, you are expecting some necessary major purchases come September, so start saving now, Taurus.

GEMINI (5/21-6/20)

On a practical note, you may want to begin some home improvements or decorating projects this month, Gemini, but it is best to put them off until September or you may wind up having to redo them. Also, reconsider and postpone any thoughts of establishing a home with a romantic interest. You might regret that decision. Redouble the stress management techniques that you began last month to keep your optimum health. If you need a few days off, better plan to stay home, because travel is unfavorable for you until the fall months. New love liaisons get off to a fast start in July, but slow down by month's end. Finances begin to get back on track and you could receive a nice raise or bonus. Revamp your budget and set financial goals.

CANCER (6/21-7/22)

Expect mix-ups and misunderstandings, as Mercury is still retrograde until July 8th. Choose your words with care, especially with family and friends. Celebrate your birthday month by giving some thought as to what you wish to accomplish over the next twelve months. Then set your plans in motion after the 8th. You will question your lover, friendships and life course at month's end. The issues will be money, values and will involve a third person. As tough as it may be to walk away, you will find the strength to do so if you must. This also affects your business relationships, so be cautious when sharing your personal ambitions with anyone.

LEO (7/23-8/22)

Let your common sense be your career guide this month, as a moneymaking opportunity could turn out to be more hassle than it's worth. Go with the flow when tensions rise and people push your buttons. July is a wonderful time to tune out the world and go within, especially over the fourth of July holiday. Listen to your inner voice as you re-center your body and soul. You're at your most irresistible mid-month, so turn on the charm and attract someone special and romantic. Go slowly and remember that a soul mate is worth waiting for. Keep an eye on your budget as the money flow slows somewhat. It's easy to run up debt without realizing it. Try to postpone any major purchases until the fall months.

VIRGO (8/23-9/22)

Try to schedule any vacation plans or business trip before the last week in July, Virgo. July 4th lights up your friendship area, so plan a fun filled summer evening with pals. Double-check your projects and plans on the 9th, after Mercury goes direct. Remember, even you can miss details as others push for completion. Double-check all of your data. Learn a new hobby, refinish some furniture, join a gym, take a class for the fun of it or sign up for sports lessons. What you do is not as important as balancing your life with time for recreation and relaxation. You are feeling romantic and may have a second chance to re-connect with someone special, especially around the Full Moon at month's end.

LIBRA (9/23-10/23)

Let caution prevail no matter how promising an investment or financial deal sounds or what someone close to you advises. The same applies to loans or major purchases, which may have some easy-to-miss hidden clauses. Take advantage of July by having a garage sale. Time to clean out closets, and storage space to give your home some needed fresh air. Be careful when you are working with power tools or climbing a ladder. Although your life can be active over the fourth of July holiday, by month's end you will spend some quiet, restful times at home with your partner, lover, and close friends. Your career shines all month long, so expect some recognition, new opportunities and perhaps a well deserved promotion.

SCORPIO (10/ 24-11/22)

Try for a weekend getaway, if not an entire week to relax and enjoy over the 4th as the New Moon encourages you to go in search of new horizons. Visit old friends and meet new people. Fill the gap with work-related get-togethers and group activities, anything which could connect you with a romantic interest or perhaps your soul mate. Expect some personal and professional challenges at month's end. Although it would be easy to absolve yourself of any responsibility, conflict usually takes two. Consider this an opportunity to view yourself through the eyes of others as well as to learn when to back down and compromise. Better not upstage your boss or anyone who might further your career, which moves into high gear in August.

SAGITTARIUS (11/23-12/21)

July promises to be a fast paced month on the job for you Sagittarians. Steady progress and high productivity keep you on track the first three weeks. After that you can expect some frustration and confusion when information is tough to come by and projects can be put on hold. Pushing will not help, so be sure to go with the flow. Consider taking the first few days to visit some out-of-town friends. The change of scenery will relax and recharge you for the busy month ahead. You are in touch with people at a distance, including relatives around the 22nd. Make a few calls around that time and you could be privy to some surprising and intriguing information. Watch your finances, as they get back on track and then slow down again until mid-fall.

CAPRICORN (12/22-1/19)

Life perks along all month long with one major exception, you may decide to put a trip on hold until the fall months. If you do travel, try to plan ahead for delays and cancellations and if you fly, go with a carry-on to avoid the possibility of lost luggage. It will also be a time when it is difficult to track down information, so start early and then be sure to confirm the facts. If you are thinking about taking a relationship to a new level, or making wedding plans, best to put them off until mid-September or later. At month's end you will have the gift for a day or two of doing exactly as you please. This is a perfect time to pamper yourself, visit a day spa, get a haircut or new hairstyle and shop for sales for career or casual clothes. Be cautious with your spending, Cap, as usual, because an unexpected family expense could crop up at month's end.

AQUARIUS (1/20-2/19)

Be careful of your budget and try to save more than you spend as you could have an unexpected domestic expense in July. If it involves a household repair, call an expert rather than fix it yourself. Make a note to schedule your routine health check-ups in July. Summertime is perfect to renew your spirit, rest and relax. Take a day off and focus on your personal interests, like lying on the beach with a good book. Close relationships benefit most of the month. The last week could spark frustration with family members. The same applies to the workplace relationships, where someone's true nature may suddenly emerge. Be cautious. Be prepared for changes, updates, and reversed decisions as momentum resumes. Soon you'll be ready for a promotion along with a hefty paycheck.

PISCES

(2/20-3/20)

You have been feeling the effects of Mercury retrograde more than any other sign, Pisces. Rather than perceive it as negative, consider it an opportunity to learn how you interact with others. July is also an excellent time for established couples to reunite, reevaluate and reaffirm their commitment to each other. After the 4th holiday weekend, you can successfully launch an exercise program with a partner. Join a gym, take sports lessons or find a neighbor who wants to walk and talk every morning and evening. Your social life is filled with parties, outings, get-togethers, and you may host a picnic before month's end. Although your job is satisfying, expect some communication problems at month's end. Above all, keep your cool and say and do nothing you'll later regret. Distance yourself; retreat into the sidelines when other people's tempers flare.
